Christmas is coming to Union County on Saturday, Dec. 2

By Lily Avery

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, and those looking to embrace the holiday spirit out in the community this weekend will have plenty of opportunities thanks to the Union County Historical Society and the Blairsville Downtown Development Authority.

The biggest event this weekend will take place in the heart of Downtown with the annual Christmas Parade on Saturday, Dec. 2, beginning at 6 p.m.

Typically, the parade has been held earlier in the afternoon on the first Saturday of December, but this year, after much consideration by Downtown Development Authority Program Manager Darren Harper, the parade has been moved to just after dusk, promising a bigger and brighter event than ever before.

"We're going to do a night time parade this year," said Harper. "We'll have pictures with Santa then after the parade we are going to be closing the square for a couple of hours. "We'll have pictures with Santa outside, reindeer games for the kids, Santa's workshop. So, we're lining everything up and getting ready to pull this off. Before, after the parade, people would scatter. So, we're hoping that having it downtown, around the square at night, and have some of the businesses open, that it'll keep more people downtown even after the parade to enjoy all the festivities."

Before the parade begins, the Union County Courthouse will open its doors for Santa Claus, Mrs. Claus and a few of Santa's elves. Children will have the chance to share their Christmas wishes and have their photo taken with Old St. Nick, from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m., before Santa joins the parade.

Following the parade will be the lighting of the Christmas tree on the lawn of the square, as well as the annual lighting of the luminaries ceremony, hosted by Enotah CASA, in honor and memory of abused

On May 22, 2018, Union County voters will have a major decision to make – whether to renew the ESPLOST.

In its Nov. 21 regular meeting, the Union County Board of Education voted to accept the parameters of ESPLOST V, paving the way for an ESPLOST referendum to appear on the ballot in the May 22 General Primary Election.

Almost a year ago, Susan Moss Stalcup joined the ranks of proud Marine mothers everywhere as her son made the decision that so many brave men and women do to protect this nation by enlisting in the United States military.

While Stalcup felt the immense sense of pride, like any mother would, she found herself wanting something more to occupy her free time, so she turned to one of the things she has always found solace in: fitness.

"My son joined the Marines last January," said Stalcup. "And I went to Ben (Newell) and I told him I wanted to do a fitness competition. He said, 'you want to do a what?' Then he asked who was going to coach me, and I said he was, and he said he would. He trained me to my first competition."

Union County Schools Superintendent Dr. Fred Rayfield will retire at the end of the 2017-2018 school year, citing "a variety of reasons."

Dr. Rayfield notified the Union County Board of Education during a Nov. 14 board training session that he would be retiring effective June 30, 2018.

Since then, the board has been entertaining options for moving forward.

"We were all saddened by his retirement but wish him well in the future," said Board Chair Cindy Odom when reached for comment.

In a Nov. 21 work session, the board welcomed Dr. Sandy Addis of superintendent search firm King-Cooper & Associates.

Addis is a familiar face to the board, as he assisted Union County Schools with the 2015 search to find a replacement for then Union County Schools Superintendent Gary Steppe.

Steppe's replacement was Dr. Fred Rayfield, who officially took over as superintendent of the system to start the 2016-2017 school year.

During the Union County Commission meeting on Thursday, Nov. 15, Union County Sole Commissioner Lamar Paris signed a proclamation designating Oct. 24, 2017 as World Polio Day.

Poliomyelitis, or Polio for short, is an extremely crippling and life-threatening infectious disease that is caused by the poliovirus. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention website, the virus spreads from person to person and can invade an infected person's brain and spinal cord, causing paralysis.

The band that launched an entire genre of music known as "surf" is coming to Anderson Music Hall on Friday.

The Beach Boys, one of the most critically acclaimed, commercially successful, and widely influential bands of all time, will play the Hall on Dec. 1, one of the most anticipated music shows in Hiawassee history.

The band continues its decades of music today with longtime bandmates Brian Wilson, Al Jardine, Mike Love, David Marks and Bruce Johnston.

Two of the Wilson brothers (original band members) passed away many years ago; Dennis drowned in 1983 and Carl died of lung cancer in 1998.

The group had more than 80 songs charted worldwide, 36 as U.S. Top 40 Hits (the most by an American Rock band), and four reaching No. 1 on the Billboard Hot 100.

The Beach Boys have sold more than 100 million records worldwide, making them one of the world's best-selling bands of all time, and they are listed at No. 12 on Rolling Stone magazine's 2004 list of the "100 Greatest Artists of All Time."
