Our group arrived at Bur-Neely Lake. We all recognize the need to transform our will and desire to establish a better relationship with God. If we have questions about Blairsville, its citizens, our leaders recognize they are a large part of the reason why we enjoy economic stability, leadership, contractors here find it easier to do business.
September 2, 2020    THE NORTH GEORGIA NEWS Page 5A

Swain—continued from Page 4A

Our leaders recognize they are expected to manage, no matter what the size of the community, and they would intentionally do nothing that might lead to changes in the local environment.

Swain—continued from Page 4A

Tillman is 15.00 miles north of Swain. So, away from me, and soon, Swain found itself with a new wastewater treatment plant. The new plant is expected to provide treatment for the town’s wastewater.

Swain—continued from Page 4A

Fowler—continued from Page 4A

When Michelle and I moved to Blairsville, the only wastewater treatment plant was located in the only wastewater treatment plant in Union County. The plant is fully capable of treating the wastewater generated by the residents of Union County.

Williams—continued from Page 4A

Williams—continued from Page 4A

Fire—continued from Page 4A

National Preparedness Month

FEMA’s National Preparedness Month is an opportunity for communities, organizations, and individuals to take action to prepare for all types of disasters and emergencies. This year’s theme is “.building resilience through preparedness.”

FEMA is encouraging everyone to take steps to prepare for natural disasters, such as floods, hurricanes, and wildfires, and to have a plan in place for each type of disaster. The agency is also reminding people to check on their neighbors and be aware of their local hazards.

The North Georgia News is a local newspaper covering news and events in the area. The paper covers a range of topics, including local government, politics, and community events. The paper has been in operation for over 50 years and is widely read in the area. The paper has a website, www.thenorthgeorgiannews.com, where people can find up-to-date news and information on local events. The paper is available in print and online, and can be found in local newsstands and online.

Pigeon Forge, Tenn. (AP) — The Gatlinburg Fire, which destroyed hundreds of homes and businesses in the area, has been fully contained, officials said.

The fire began on Nov. 28 and rapidly spread through the area, burning over 12,000 acres and destroying more than 170 homes. The fire was contained by Dec. 8, but officials continued to monitor the area for any signs of re-ignition.

FEMA is advising people to stay vigilant and be prepared for any potential hazards in the area.

The paper is also covering local events, such as the annual Christmas parade, which takes place in the town square on December 1. The parade features floats, live music, and other activities.

The North Georgia News is a valuable resource for people in the area, providing news and information on local events and issues. The paper is an important part of the community, and is widely read by people in the area.