is completed and receives a lot of sun, the surface must have gravel dust applied to help prevent bleeding through of the tar. Once it is cured and the loose gravel is swept off after two or three days, it is a very durable surface and has saved the county millions of dollars over the past few years.

Q. What roads received surface treatment paving this year?

A. Each year we try to complete surface treatments on some of the county maintained roads that need it the most. So far this year we have been able to complete surface treatments on 12 roads which are listed below. We also put surface treatment on the new Highway 325 Transfer Station and Meeks Park II.

Surface treated roads are Pleasant Valley Lane; James

Browner Road; Pine Oak Lane; Stonewall Drive; Coker Smith Drive; Holbrooks Road; Rocking Horse Farm Road; Hawks Nest Lane; Seabolt Lane; Dills Road Extension; Tritt Road; Woody Lane.

Q. How many county maintained and how many private roads are in the county?

A. There are 831 county maintained roads, with 249 of those still being gravel. There are 2,233 private roads still in the county.

Q. How many miles of roads do we have in the county?

A. For roads that are county maintained we have 397.64 miles of paved roads, 138.75 miles of gravel roads, and 15.19 miles of surface treatment roads. There are also 474.31 miles of private roads.

their own dresses which were as pretty as store bought dresses. Each lady was wearing a beautiful, brightly colored hat with an encircling ribbon which was hand tatted.

Dad Baker finally grew weary of the day and stood up which was a signal to Mommy that it was time to go. As he stood Minnie looked up and asked for a ride back toward Ray Mountain. Dad told her that would be fine except all they had was a log truck and the ladies would have to ride in the back. Minnie and her 2 daughters agreed. They walked to the truck and mother and her grandparents started to get in when Minnie asked, "Charlie, I believe I can get into the truck, but, I would be much obliged if you'd help my two daughters. They have been feeling poorly lately and probably can't climb up into the bed of that truck." Dad never cracked a smile and asked "Who is going to help me?" Mother said, "I can remember laughing hysterically until Mommy Baker placed her gentle hand on my shoulder". Mom thought she was in trouble until the old truck started and began driving down the road. Mom said, "Dad Baker looked at Mommy and both of them began to laugh and they laughed so hard they began to cry".

Mother's first trip to town reminds me of the Saturday mornings at the Farmers Market. This next Saturday will be one that is especially memorable. We have "Johnny Appleseed" coming to the Farmers Market. He will be with us beginning at 10 a. m. So, you can come out to meet him. At 10:30 and again around 11 a.m. Johnny will be at the pavilion next to the food trailer at which time he will tell his story about traveling across our country. After you enjoy his story you can buy a biscuit from Millie and spread some apple butter on it. The first 100 people that visit the canning plant beginning at 11 a.m. will receive a small jar of apple butter prepared by the Union County Canning Plant. See you Saturday!

tance on all 9-1-1 calls, they do not have the choice to pick and choose who they will assist or when. These very men and women put their very lives on the line each and everyday, at a very low wage, to make our communities and neighborhoods safe for each everyone of us, small or large, rich or poor, regardless of race, creed, color or mental health state (psychiatric crisis!), "my hat goes off to them."

For me within the last thirty days alone; I've had to make two separate 9-1-1 calls about two completely different situations... both times the Blairsville Police Department handled each 9-1-1 call with "flying colors." They appeared well within a timely response frame, attended to my distress with the upmost respect and professionalism that I have ever experienced or seen. Thank you Assistant Chief "Bear"

Baxter, all the Sheriff and Georgia Probation officers, and most recently, Officer Adam Deyton for your kindness and assistance to me when I needed it. To all our police and local law enforcement officers, may God bless you, may God keep you and yours, and may He shine His face upon you always. In regards,

Susan M. (Case) Ravenhall, RN

P.S. - If anyone else has had, like me, a positive experience with our local Police and Sheriff's Department, take the time to write a thank you. You can address it to: Blairsville Police Department, c/o Assistant Chief Michael J. Baxter, 62 Blue Ridge Street, P.O. Box 307, Blairsville, GA 30512. These "servants of justice" securing the peace in our town; deserve a well deserved "thank you" as in the words of Clint Eastwoods "Dirty Harry", "make their day!" -Peace to live out in the vineyards. The vineyard keepers noticed that when Priapus played in the vineyards the birds stayed away from the grapes and the harvest was the best ever. Other farmers decided to make statues that looked like Priapus to use in their vineyards. They painted the figures purple and put a club in one hand to make the statue look more dangerous and a sickle in the other for a good harvest. The Romans effectively copied the Greek custom and when Roman armies went to places like France, Germany, and England they introduced the people who lived there to Priapus scarecrows.

Throughout North America, in order to protect their corn crops, Native American tribes used scarecrows or bird scarers. Most Indian bird scarers were adult men. Here in Georgia, Creek Indian families moved into huts in their corn fields during the growing season. The men would sit on raised wooden platforms and howl and shout if crows or woodchucks came near the corn. You are familiar with the expression "crazy birds"? Seneca Indians, in what is now New York, soaked corn seeds in a poisonous herb mixture that would make the crows fly crazily around the fields and scare away the other birds.

Immigrants who moved to the United States during the 1800s brought with them a variety of ideas for making scarecrows. In Pennsylvania, German farmers built human looking scarecrows called a bootzamon or bogeyman. His body was a wooden cross and his head was a broom or mop top or a cloth bundle stuffed with straw. The bootzamon wore old overalls, a long-sleeved shirt or coat, a worn woolen or straw hat, and a large red handkerchief around his neck. Sometimes a second scarecrow was built to keep the bootzamon company. A bootza-frau or bogeywife, dressed in a long dress or coat and wearing a sunbonnet on her head, was placed on the opposite end of the field. The bootzamon and bootzafrau guarded cornfields, strawberry patches, and cherry orchards. Hmmm, cherry orchards.

When I relocated here from Florida eighteen years ago, one of the selling factors of my new residence was that fact that the property had a fruit bearing, mature sweet cherry tree. I couldn't wait till the day I could pick the first dark, red sweet fruit. I watched all spring as they blossomed, matured and were starting to ripen. One morning I decided that I could not wait any longer; I must have my first picking. The dogs and I headed out to the north end of the property only to find that the tree that had been laden with fruit the previous afternoon, was now bare. If only I had been apprised of the merits of the bootzamon.

I'm working on my scarecrow for this years competition. I encourage you to do the same. Let's have a scarecrow in every yard. Let's make Blairsville and Union County the epitome of Scarecrow-ville. Abraham was born, I am" (Jn. 8:58). They tried to stone him after that one. Same thing happened when he said, "I and the Father are one." They knew he was making the audacious claim to be God (Jn. 10:30,33).

So you might be thinking Jesus had it coming. True, but not because of what he said. He had it coming by his own choice. It was for you. You are real to him, even if he isn't to you. The humbling premise of the Christian gospel is that something is wrong with you, and you need a Savior. There it is, being 'real.' It's not Mr. Trump's job to stomp that real message, that's on us, brothers and sisters. Believe it!
